Action Bladder Cancer UK works to improve the lives of people with bladder cancer. Your support will help us run our programmes of patient information and support, improving outcomes for bladder cancer patients, supporting research and raising awareness. Bladder cancer is not a rare cancer – It is the 7th most common cancer in the UK (the 4th most common cancer in men) – over 100,000 people are living with it in the UK. Despite this, treatments for bladder cancer have changed little over the past 30 years and bladder cancer receives less than 1% of research funding. For further information, please visit www.actionbladdercanceruk.org.
